KING EDWARD AS THE CABINET MAKER

Political Crisis Has Taken on Phase of Almost Unprecedented Interest and Is Constitutional Importance.

H N and H Society Capitol Bldg Ea88SDH

London, Sept. 23. The political crisis has taken on a phase which lends to the present situation a historical and constitutional importance of almost unprecedented interest. The king has interfered, not unconstitutionally or beyond the powers vested in the crown, but in the exercise of his prerogatives to an extent never dreamed of in the Victorian era.

Premier Balfour's continued presence at Balmoral has given rise to much surmise and comment but the Associated Press is able to state positively that it is the king's determination not to assent to the formation of a new cabinet until thoroughly satisfied that its personnel and combination is such as to insure the efficient carrying on of national affairs pending the resumption of parliament.

Has Done Away With Tradition.

For years previous cabinets were formed or ministerial vacancies filled by the mere presentation to the sovereign of the names of the new ministers. King Edward has done away with this tradition. He has spent the last few days in constant discussion with Mr. Balfour as to the advisability, from the point of view of the welfare of the nation of the latter's suggested appointments. Ministers now holding office and those nominated for office have been summoned to Balmoral to join in these conferences and all have been subjected to a degree of interrogation such as has surprised even those who know King Edward intimately as Prince of Wales. To such an extent is King Edward holding his power of veto in reserve that he is now almost regarded by the inner circles as more the cabinet maker than Mr Balfour himself.

Through unusual tact the king has refrained from expressing any political views or infringing the initiative belonging to the ministers and this has not prevented him from expressing his genuine desire, amounting almost to a command, that steps be taken to remedy the scandals in the army administration revealed by the report of the South African war commission and insisting that the new cabinet shall be one adapted to deal with this question.

Lord Lansdowne Defended.

After the long conversations he has had during the last few days at Balmoral with Lord Landsdowne, Mr. Brodrick, Lieutenant General Sir Kelley-Kenney and other military authorities, the king is said to have expressed the opinion that Lord Lansdowne's record as war secretary was due more to the badness of the system in vogue than to any defect in Lord Lansdowne's own judgment. King Edward has not shared the keen public indignation against Lord Lansdowne aroused by the representations of the South African war commission and after a minute examination of the circumstances he is understood to have consented to his lordship continuing as foreign minister. The decision has not prevented his majesty from telling the ministers that he wanted something done to improve the military muddle and that he hoped some man would be appointed who, with the commission's report as a basis, would be capable of changing the system which rendered inefficiency unavoidable.

The question of having some general, notably Lord Kitchener, as head of the war office, has been keenly discussed at Balmoral between the king and the ministers but the Associated Press understands that the consensus of opinion was such that an appointment of this kind would be interpreted as a modified form of military dictatorship which the public would never sanction.

A Ruler Instead of a Figurehead.

Dealing with the surmises upon some of the foregoing points, the Morning Advertiser today said.

"The king has in this national emergency resolved to play the part of a ruler instead of being content with that of a figurehead."

Meantime every detail of the negotiations for filling the vacancies in the cabinet is submitted to the king, who, for the time being has transformed Balmoral into the political center of the empire, from which, owing to the unusual influences at work, several surprises may emanate. Whatever the results may be, they can safely be attributed to a large extent to the king's interest in the crisis.

TWO ARRESTS MAY BE MADE

Warrants Out for Members of Militia.

FAILED TO REPORT

CAPT. SCHOLZ AND SERGT. HOLMAN HERE FROM CAMP TO SECURE SERVICE ON NATIONAL GUARDSMEN.

Captain S. B. Scholz, Jr., and First Sergeant H. B. Holman of company I, Second regiment of the Colorado National guard, came down from Cripple Creek yesterday and as a result of their visit, several of the members of the company who failed to report for duty when the troops were called to the district will find themselves under arrest today.

Captain Scholz will start out in search of the missing men this morning and if they can be found, four arrests will be made. The arrests will be made on warrants sworn out in a justice court and the trial of the prisoners will be before a justice of the peace.

The maximum penalty for desertion of this kind is $50 and one year in jail.

Captain Scholz stated last night that no reason was known for the absence of the four men, whose names he refused to divulge and it might develop at the trial that they were unavoidably detained. It is doubtful if this is the case, however, according to Captain Scholz as the men could have made some report to the first sergeant.

First Lieutenant Barber of the company has been in the city several times since the troops were called out in an effort to locate the missing men.

DELEGATION SENT TO MINERS MEETING.

Local Union to Abide by Decision of District No. 15 Regarding Impending Strike.

Alex Allen, Frank Mott, John Tittle and Mike Streaner went to Pueblo yesterday morning to represent the two local unions of the United Mine Workers of America at the meeting of district No. 15, now being held in the Smelter city. The recent trouble between the local unions and the operators have been satisfactorily settled, but it is the intention of the local unions to abide by the decision of the convention.

At the meeting of the Federated Trades council, with which the miners are affiliated, last night, the impending strike by miners of this district was not discussed.

GOLDEN CYCLE CASE IN COURT OF APPEALS.

Application Made for Appointment of Receiver for the Company in Interests of the Stockholders.

Denver, Sept 23—Application has now been made to the court of appeals for the appointment of a receiver for the Golden Cycle Mining company and such other relief the court wishes to grant "until such time as the said corporation can safely manage its own affairs, in order that the property and assets of said corporation may not be lost or materially injured or impaired, to the great and irreparable damage and injury of its stockholders, and in fraud of their right and to their prejudice, through acts and threatened acts of the defendants, John T. Milliken and L. E. Hill, as officers thereof."

DEATH OF M. F. KAUFMAN

Well-Known Merchant of Colorado Springs Dies Suddenly in Kansas City.

Word was received in this city yesterday afternoon by O. Livermore of the sudden death in Kansas City of Moses F. Kaufman, head of the big department store in this city.

The news of Mr. Kaufman's sudden demise, came as a great shock to the relatives and the many friends of the deceased in this city. When he left Colorado Springs a little over a week ago on a business trip to St. Joseph and Kansas City he appeared to be in good health. Mr. Kaufman had been a sufferer from lung trouble for a long time but had not complained of feeling unusually ill when he left here. He was taken ill with hemorrhages at his hotel yesterday morning and death followed soon after.

B. S. Kaufman, a brother, left yesterday afternoon at 2.50 o'clock to take charge of the remains. It has not been decided what disposition will be made of them, but they will probably be interred at Quincy, Ill., where the family burial plot is located, or Richmond, Va., Mr. Kaufman's old home. In the event that the body is taken to Quincy, funeral services will probably be held at the Jewish church in that city.

Prominent in Business.

Mr. Kaufman was 50 years old. He has been a resident of Colorado Springs for seven years, coming here from Richmond. He had been in the dry goods business in the east eight years, and upon his arrival here assisted in establishing the business now conducted by the Kaufman firm, of which he was the senior member at the time of his death.

During Mr Kaufman's residence here he had always been prominently identified with the business interests of the city.

In addition to his interest in the store and other buildings in this city, Mr. Kaufman owned an interest in the St. Joseph Gazette. When Lewis Gaylord went to St. Joseph about two years ago and purchased the Gazette, Mr. Kaufman became associated with him in the ownership. Later William McK. Barbour, formerly of Colorado Springs, purchased an interest in the paper.

Mr. Barbour is now at the Brown Palace hotel in Denver, where he received word of his partner's death last night. He is expected in Colorado Springs today or tomorrow. Mr. Gaylord, it was learned last night, had gone to Kansas City, upon receiving news of Mr. Kaufman's death.

Well-Known Horseman.

Mr. Kaufman was one of the best known members of the Pike's Peak club, his membership having dated back for a number of years. He was also one of the active members of the Gentlemen's Driving club, his love for fine horse-flesh being also very well known. During his connection with the club, he has held the presidency and other offices at different times.

The deceased is survived by two sisters and two brothers. Mrs. O. Livermore, a sister, resides at 1224 North Nevada avenue, and Mrs. Michaelson, another sister, is a resident of Nebraska City, Neb. One brother resides in Richmond, Va., and the other, B. S. Kaufman, in this city. Another brother, Samuel Kaufman, died about five years ago.

COAL MINERS IN CONVENTION

DISTICT PRESIDENT HOWELLS IN HIS OPENING ADDRESS URGED CONSERVATISM IN EVERYTHING.

Pueblo, Colo., Sept. 23.—The first session of the convention of the Fifteenth district of the United Mine Workers of America was called to order at 2 o'clock this afternoon by District President William Howells. The meetings are being held in Labor hall and there were 50 delegates present at roll call. Only routine business was transacted at today's session, such as the appointments of committees and outlining the work of the convention. A short address was made by President Howells urging conservatism in all that was done. He was followed by M. Grant Hamilton of the National Federation of Labor. State Labor Commissioner Montgomery, who is the personal representative of Governor Peabody, also made a few remarks.

Tomorrow the president will make his annual report and reports from all parts of the district will be heard. The committees appointed today will also make their reports and recommendations and it is expected that the day will be the most important of the convention.

PRISONERS' COUNSEL LEAVE

Habeas Corpus Case is Under Advisement.

... WITHDRAW ...

MESSRS ENGLEY AND MURPHY WITHDRAW AS PROTEST AGAINST PRESENCE OF MILITIA.

Special to the Gazette

Cripple Creek, Sept. 23—The three arms of the service were all called to duty this morning to guard the prisoners brought from Camp Goldfield to the district court.

The First squadron of cavalry, comprising three troops, arrived first on the scene and surrounded the court house. The Gatling gun loaned by the state of Wyoming was placed at the corner of Fourth street and Bennett avenue, commanding the Midland depot.

The prisoners arrived at 9:30 on a special train accompanied by Company A, First regiment, and Company B, Second regiment. The infantrymen occupied two rows of seats in the court room. At the same time sharpshooters were stationed on the roofs of buildings in the vicinity of the court house.

An Accidental Shot.

Shortly before court convened a trooper stationed close to the fire station accidentally discharged his rifle and a panic nearly ensued. Troopers rushed to the spot and the hospital corps, thinking their services were needed, proceeded there with a litter, but as soon as the real cause of the excitement was ascertained, officers quickly shouted new orders to the troops and the soldiers fell back to their places. No injury was done by the accident, more than digging a small hole in the street.

Seated in the court room ready for court to convene were Generals Chase and Bell, Colonel Jones, Judge Advocate McClelland, Colonel Ansenger and Attorney S. B. Crump representing the military Seated near were Attorneys Murphy and Engley, counsel for the petitioners. Mrs Parker, the wife of Sherman Parker, one of the prisoners, occupied her usual seat, beside her husband, and chatted with him throughout the proceedings. The crowd today was much larger than on previous occasions. Many more ladies were present than at any time since the military has been called into court.

Engley's Withdrawal.

When the court convened at 10.18 Attorney Engley, representing the prisoners, arose and said that he desired to make a few remarks calmly, dispassionately and fearlessly, and he hoped he would not be interrupted. He said:

"It has befallen to me to make the closing arguments for the petitioners. When I filed this petition on a writ of habeas corpus, the highest writ of right known to law and civilization, I supposed I was doing it under a constitutional guarantee. The court may say that it is, but the fact remains that the forces of intimidation are present; the constitutional guarantee that the court shall be open and untrammeled has been invaded. This is no longer a constitutional court; it is an armed camp. The court has been surrounded by soldiery."

The court, interrupting, said:

"This court will have to ask you to take your seat if you are to proceed in this strain. The court is here to hear argument on the motion to quash."

General Engley said: "Your honor, I refuse to proceed further in this case. Humanity has suffered before and these poor prisoners, I suppose, will have to suffer a few days longer, but I refuse to proceed under such conditions."

At this juncture Mr. Engley picked up his papers and law books and walked from the court room. His associate, Mr. Murphy, followed, and as he was passing the bench Judge Seeds stopped him and asked him what his purpose was. Mr. Murphy replied that counsel for the petitioners would withdraw as long as the militia was present in the court room and building.

The court then said: "We will proceed with the motions to quash."

So the only argument presented to the court today was that of S. G. Crump, for respondents. Mr. Crump stated that he appeared as the personal representative of Governor Peabody to urge that the power of the executive be regarded as effective. He then ad-

ALL WORKING AT ABE LINCOLN

SIXTY MEN APPLIED BUT ONLY 43 WERE ENGAGED—NEW SHAFT HOUSE FOR THE FINDLEY MINE.

Special to the Gazette.

Camp Goldfield, Sept. 23.—At Camp Goldfield everything has been very quiet and peaceful the entire day. Several new recruits arrived in the camp and more are expected the next few days.

Captain Sholz of company I of Colorado Springs, accompanied by Sergeant Holman of the same company, left camp this afternoon for their homes in Colorado Springs and while there will arrest different members of their company, who have failed to report or have not given sufficient reasons for failure to report to their commands.

Abe Lincoln Resumes.

Walter Swanson, manager of the Abe Lincoln property, located in Poverty gulch, resumed operations this morning with a full force of men. The property is under lease to Denver parties and has been closed ever since the inauguration of the strike

Mr. Swanson stated tonight to your representative that during the day over 60 men had applied for work but for the present as he only expected to work one shift, 43 was the entire number he could put to work.

This property is working in rich ore and makes a production of about one carload a day which runs in the vicinity of $60 to $100 to the ton and their first shipment will be billed to the smelters by tomorrow night.

Findley Shaft House.

A large force of carpenters commenced work this morning on the Findley property on Bull hill, where they will erect a substantial shaft house 24x28 feet. The construction of a new gallows frame was also started and will be 50 feet high when completed. This work is being done in readiness for the large plant of machinery ordered several weeks ago and when completed the Findley will be one of the best equipped properties on that hill.

Besides the four prisoners seeking redress in the district court there are now confined in the bull pen, President C. G. Kennison and W. S. Davis of the district union executive committee and Pat Mullaney and Thomas Fisher.

MISS FRIDBORN IDENTIFIES BOLLES AS ASSAILANT

Particularly Atrocious Crime Committed in Denver Two Years Ago May Be Avenged.

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 23.—Chief Detective Carberry of Denver left this evening for Denver with Russell Bolles, traced here and wanted by the Denver police on the charge of having murdered Harold Fridborn, aged 14, and of having criminally assaulted Florence Fridborn, aged 16. The crimes are alleged to have been committed on the evening of December, 31, 1901.

MYSTERIOUS DOUBLE SHOOTING IN NEW YORK.

Chicago, Sept. 23.—Early this morning the dead bodies of Harriet Webber and Innocent Talamini, a marble cutter, were found on Lexington avenue, just south of Fifty-fourth street. Both had been shot twice and, while there are indications that the man shot the woman and then killed himself, there are other features to the case that make it somewhat mysterious. Arthur M. Laurie, with whom the dead woman had made her home, will be held by the police until after the inquest.

CONTROVERSY SETTLED.

St. Paul, Sept. 23—The controversy between the engineers and firemen and the Great Northern road was amicably settled tonight.

CITIZENS ALLIANCE FORMED AT CHEYENNE

OVER 500 CHARTER MEMBERS WERE PRESENT AT THE FIRST MEETING.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Sept. 23.—At a meeting of 500 merchants, professional men, contractors, real estate owners and leading citizens, held this evening, under admission by card, the Cheyenne Citizens alliance was formed this evening at Keefe hall.

Those who attended had already signed as charter members, and it is expected the membership will soon reach 1,000. Addresses were made by President Craig of the Denver alliance, Herbert George and Attorney Potter of Colorado, and prominent Cheyenne citizens.

A constitution was adopted and officers elected. The extent of the movement is surprising even to those who promoted the organization. The object of the alliance is to preserve law and order and give protection to non-union men as well as union men. Its effect is practically to de-unionize the city of Cheyenne in view of the threatened strike of the machinists and boiler makers, who after agreeing to work with the non-union men in settling the last strike have caused endless trouble and conflict, virtually violating their agreement.

... IN MEXICO

Harris Said to Have Gone Over the Border.

SHERIFF IN ...

EX-CITY AUDITOR IS GIVING THE AUTHORITIES MUCH TROUBLE — A BADLY WANTED MAN.

So far the sheriff's office has been unable to locate Ike S. Harris.

According to the terms of the citation issued by Judge Orr, Sheriff W. R. Gilbert must make a return on the process placed in his hands by October 1. If he is unable to find Harris within that time he will be compelled to make a return showing that fact, and in such an event it is probable detectives will be employed by the bonding company and by the attorneys representing the estate of Miss Welling.

In connection with the petition filed by Miss Welling Tuesday, it is understood that an attempt will be made to reopen the estate of Herbert Johnson, which was closed some time ago, and to also make inquiry concerning the Frothingham-Anderson estate.

Johnson Dissatisfied.

It is said that Mr. Johnson is not satisfied with the way the estate was handled while Mr. Harris was acting as conservator, and if a petition is filed asking that the case be reopened, it will be accompanied by sensational charges and disclosures.

No report has ever been filed in the Frothingham-Anderson estate, and it is probable the same action will be taken in that matter as has been taken by the attorneys for Miss Welling.

Sheriff W. R. Gilbert said yesterday that he had received word that Harris was in Mexico and he has sent communications to all the principal cities of the country asking the officers to keep a watch for the missing man.

Bonding Company's Efforts.

The United States Fidelity & Guaranty company is awaiting the return to be made by Sheriff Gilbert before making any further effort to find Harris, but it is announced by the local representatives of the company that detectives will be employed if the sheriff is unable to locate him.

The attorneys for Miss Welling will doubtless hold the bonding company liable on their bond for any shortage, and for that reason but little effort will be made by them. If he cannot be found the attorneys for the affairs of the young woman will ask the court to instruct the bonding company to make good the loss sustained.

PACED THE MILE IN 1:57

New York, Sept. 23.—Prince Alert, the pacing horse of a hundred races and the champion of a score of half-mile tracks, went against the world's pacing record of 1:59, held by Dan Patch, and beat it most decisively at the Empire City track today. It was the first day of the autumn meeting of the Empire track and in addition to a strong card of four races, Prince Alert was billed for what looked like the impossible feat of beating the record. But Prince Alert had recently won the half-mile track championship in 2:03½, which had been won only the week before by Dan Patch in 2:04, and good judges were sanguine.

The weather and track were perfect, and the wind, which was high early in the day, kindly subsided, so that the conditions were favorable. Mart Demarest, the trainer and driver of the Prince, on account of overweight, decided to get John Curry to drive and Demarest drove the thoroughbred speed-maker in front with the windshield sulky. At the third time the starter gave the word and, pacing like a perfect piece of machinery, Prince Alert shot away to the quarter pole in :29½. As he got into the back stretch he increased his speed and was at the half in :58. Then the crowd realized that they were witnessing the fastest mile of the century and cheers and shouts of "Come on" came from the grandstand and lawn. Without a break or tremor he flashed by the three-quarter pole in 1:26¾, and without any urging came on with a superb burst of speed, crossing the wire in 1:57.

LONG SEARCH FAILS TO LOCATE CORAY

Bench Warrant Out for Ex-Building Inspector, But He Has Dropped Out of Sight—Said to Be Very ...

There are those who are ready to say he is, and statements taken in connection with the failure of the sheriff's office to locate him, support the belief which exists in certain quarters that the ex-building inspector is trying to elude the law's grasp.

On the other hand, Coray's attorneys say their client will put in an appearance as soon as he is physically able; that his condition is such now that he cannot be in attendance at court, and is remaining away on the advice of his physicians.

Ignorant of Whereabouts.

At the same time his attorneys profess ignorance of his exact whereabouts, merely saying that he went to Pueblo when he left here and that they know nothing further about his movements.

"I have no doubt Coray will be on hand as soon as he gets well," said W. D'A. Lombard, Coray's counsel, yesterday. "I do not say he intended to be here at his trial, as he has been ill; but I believe he will report as soon as he has recovered."

Anyway, He's Missing.

Whether Coray has "flown the coop" or is only remaining away because of alleged illness, it is a fact that the sheriff's office at 3 o'clock this morning had not been able to locate him, although they had been trying since 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon to find him.

The motion for a continuance of the prosecution against ex-Building Inspector E. G. Coray was denied by Judge Cunningham yesterday morning and a bench warrant for his arrest placed in the hands of Sheriff W. R. Gilbert.

It was announced by Coray's attorneys and friends that he was at Pueblo, suffering from nervous prostration, but so far the sheriff's office has been unable to get any trace of him in that city. Several telegrams were sent to the sheriff of Pueblo county yesterday, the first immediately after the issuance of the bench warrant. The long-distance telephone was used, but nothing whatever could be learned of the missing man.

Rumors of Flight.

It was generally rumored on the streets yesterday that Coray had gone to California, and it is the opinion of the sheriff's office that he is no longer in the state. After it was learned that he was not at Pueblo, Sheriff Gilbert at once got into communication with the officials of the adjoining states, and Coray's description was sent to as many places as possible with instructions to arrest him if he should be found.

The warrant issued by Judge Cunningham directed that Coray be brought into court at once, and for that reason nothing will be left unturned by the sheriff until he has been found. His attorneys said yesterday that as soon as he was well enough to attend court he would be on hand, but they said they knew nothing of his whereabouts.

The motion for a continuance filed yesterday was supported by affidavits signed by Dr. A. J. Berry and Dr. R. H. McDonnell to the effect that Coray was a nervous wreck and that he had gone to Pueblo under their advice to take treatment and try the mineral baths there. Notwithstanding these affidavits, however, Judge Cunningham refused to grant the continuance.

Didn't Want Much.

This was the third continuance asked for, and according to its language, if it had been granted the trial would have been postponed indefinitely. The motion asked for the vacation of the order granting a continuance to the September term. When the Coray case was first called for trial a continuance was granted on the plea that the examination being made by the expert accountant had not been completed, and that until it had been fin-

DEMOCRATIC PRIMARIES NOT ... IN ...

LITTLE ... REPRESENTATION AT PRIMARIES LAST NIGHT—SEVERAL PRECINCTS NAME DELEGATES.

Democratic primaries were held in a number of the precincts of the city last night.

There was but one candidate to be voted on and but little interest was shown. The representation at the primaries was small, few members of the party turning out last night. In a great many of the precincts the primaries have been called for tonight, while others will not be held until tomorrow night.

The primaries are for the purpose of selecting delegates to the county convention, which will be called to order Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The convention will be composed of 131 delegates in all, who will select 21 delegates to the district convention, which will meet at the county court house September 29.

No Fight On.

While the interest in the county convention has not been very marked, the party leaders claim it is the result of the unanimity of the party in the matter of a nominee. Attorney C. L. McKesson is the only candidate who has been mentioned and the delegates selected at the primaries last night, while not formally instructed, will be unanimous for him. The delegates who will be selected to attend the district convention will be instructed by resolution, and it is claimed by those who are watching the trend of events that the same instruction will be given in the conventions of the other counties in the district.

The Delegates.

Precinct 26—William Swift, Samuel Davis, Wallace Peck.

Precinct 36—W. W. Robinson, Frank Leighton.

Precinct 45—James A. Mundy, John H. Murry, Samuel Marshall.

Precinct 47—David McShane, Cyrus Mansfield, J. F. Rougeot.

CHILD ... MOTHER ...

DAUGHTER OF MRS. MEISLAHN TESTIFIES IN DIVORCE SUIT—THE CASE CONTINUED.

The 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Meislahn was the chief witness in the divorce suit tried in the district court yesterday. She testified that her mother did not get drunk as charged by Meislahn in the answer filed to his wife's complaint. The child was called by the plaintiff for the purpose of offsetting the testimony of Meislahn and ex-Police Officer Clyde Hall, who both testified that Mrs. Meislahn was drunk almost constantly.

When the little girl was asked if she knew the meaning of the word intoxicated she replied that it meant drunk. She was then asked if her mother ever got drunk and she answered in the negative.

Clyde Hall, who was at that time a member of the police force, and stationed near the Meislahn home, said he had seen Mrs. Meislahn in a drunken condition a number of times and at one time came into the house and found her on the bed unconscious

The evidence for both sides was completed by 3 o'clock, and the case continued for argument until today.

AN IMPORTANT MINING DEAL AT LEADVILLE.

Leadville, Colo., Sept. 23.—An important mining deal has just been consummated in this district by which an American company takes over the holdings of the Imperial La Plata Mining company, a British concern.

The company decided to go into liquidation last spring and an agent was sent to Leadville to examine the property and negotiate a sale. Col. James A. Shinn, who had a lien on the ground, secured an option and with W. F. Dean, er, succeeded in perfecting a deal with Illinois people. The money to take up the option has arrived and the 52 acres at once passes into the hands of the syndicate.

The La Plata property is located on Rock hill, and has produced over $2,000,000. The new company plans an extensive system of development.

STRATTON ESTATE ...

Asked That Appraisement Proceedings Be Stopped—Overruled by Judge Orr.

A formal objection against the further continuance of the investigation on the part of Appraiser J. A. Elston was made to the county court yesterday morning by Attorneys McAllister and Gandy, representing the Stratton estate.

It was overruled by Judge Orr, who reiterated the authority vested in Judge Elston, and gave him the further authority to subpoena witnesses and administer oaths.

The objection was founded on the same grounds as the objections heretofore filed by the estate, and the ruling by Judge Orr was on the same ground. The petition filed by McAllister and Gandy alleged that the revenue law under which the appraisement was being made was unconstitutional and that all acts done under it were without effect, and for that reason the examination should be brought to a close.

The order issued by Judge Orr did not refer to the objections, but ... at the authority originally given the appraiser and gave him the right to conduct the examination with the ... power possessed by a court. MAY[illegible]W [illegible]ENOMINATED

THE REPUBLICAN AND CITIZENS UNION CONVENTIONS GAVE HIM UNQUALIFIED INDORSEMENT.

New York, Sept. 23.—The Republican and Citizens union city conventions met tonight, the former at the Grand Central palace and the latter at Cooper union, and nominated to head the city ticket the candidates decided on at the conference of the anti-Tammany forces:

For mayor, Seth Low; Edward M. Grout for comptroller and Charles V. Fornes for president of the board of aldermen.

The Republican convention met early in the afternoon and adjourned until evening out of respect to the memory of Frederick S. Gibbs, of the Republican national committee, whose chair as a member of his district delegation was draped in mourning.

The platform adopted when the convention reassembled declared that "The Republicans of New York unqualifiedly indorse the efficient and business-like administration of Mayor Low, Comptroller Grout and President Fornes," and declared that every principle of two years ago had been fulfilled in letter and spirit. The issue of the campaign was declared to be the continuance of "this honest, intelligent and progressive administration."

Late tonight District Attorney Jerome returned to his quarters in Rutgers street. When told that the fusionists had renominated Low, Grout and Fornes, he said:

"I assume that the platform in its general scope and trend will be what it was in the last campaign—that is that it will substantially be a drawing of the line between decency and indecency.

"I should be discouraged more than I have words to express by the action of the two conventions tonight did I believe that they were the sincere and untrammeled expressions of the delegates. Upon the information of men good and true and loyal I have made my fight, such as it was. I have not one word to retract, change, amend or soften. Everything I have said is absolutely true and is known to be so. I will fight this fight, if such a man as I can be of service to the bitter end, and when it is finished I will shake the dust from my feet and until I can find leaders to whom truth means more than sham and hypocrisy, to whom faith is even greater than victory, I will stand as I have stood today, alone."

NEWSPAPER MAN JOINS [illegible]ITIA FOR EXPERIENCE

Denver, Sept. 23.—After hoboing it from New York to Denver, Jean Weir a newspaper man, who details his experience in weekly letters for one of the large dailies of New York, this morning joined the Colorado National guard and has been sent to Cripple Creek. For several months he has been a veritable tramp, living among the wandering Willies of the road and beating his way on the trains like a professional. "He will get experience a-plenty," said Surgeon General Hanford at the state house. "He said he wanted to feel how it was to get soldier clothes on and I gave him the opportunity. The recruiting office is searching for cowboys to join the troops of cavalry."

This afternoon twenty-five men were sent to Cripple Creek. This was the largest number that has been sent since the recruiting office was opened.

COLORADO-NEW MEXICO FAIR AT DURANGO

First Day Indicates Great Success—San Juan Pioneers to Have Reunion Tonight.

Durango, Colo., Sept. 23—The Colorado-New Mexico fair opened today with the sun shining and conditions most favorable for a grand success. There are several thousand people on the ground and more arriving hourly from this section of the state and northern New Mexico. There are many horses in the stalls and the sport events will be of unusual interest. The committee on arrangements concluded its work last night, and the exhibits are the finest shown in the country.

The Silverton, Aztec and Durango teams will play a series of three games for a purse of $500. The rivalry between these teams is very strong, and the games will be hard fought.

Tomorrow the San Juan Pioneer association will hold its ninth annual reunion. No one is eligible to membership in the society who was not in the district before July 1, 1881. Hon. Adair Wilson of Denver is in town and will be the principal speaker at a banquet to be held Thursday evening. Invitations were extended to Governor Peabody and other state officials, but they will be unable to attend.

FLAT BOAT CITY IN PEORIA IS DOOMED.

Queer Town on the Water Must Move Elsewhere by Order of Court.

Peoria, Sept. 23.—Upon the heads of the inhabitants of "Flat Boat City," that is the lowest section of it, has fallen the doom—not exactly of Sodom and Gomorrah—but nevertheless doom. The inhabitants of that notorious district, who have for lo these many years furnished the police department of the city business day in and day out, and the story of whose quarrels, fights and even murders have filled the columns of the press, are to be ousted bodily from the odoriferous nests which they have occupied for years, and have "got to git."

Yesterday afternoon in the court of Justice Reuter the P. & P. U. Railway company commenced no less than nine suits in forcible entry and detainer directed against John Humphrey, Benjamin Taylor, James Ruish, Andrew Roth, John McFarland, James Sargent, John W. Green, Fred Hanson, Ed Fuller. The cases were all set for hearing for September 24, and at that time the first official crack of the doom of Flat Boat City will be heard.

The upper segment of the city, which formerly stood immediately above the Carroll ice houses, has been pretty well cleaned out by the action of the authorities, who have used the place for a dumping ground, and this has filled up the hollow in which the shacks stood for so many years that the memory of the oldest inhabitant runneth not to the contrary. Now the soulless corporation has decided that the balance must get out, and have appealed to the courts to oust them. The location is not far from the gas house, and within a sort of bay shacks are scattered so thick that it is almost impossible to move between them. Within these tumbled down huts have dwelt all manner of criminals in the past, and some of them are there yet. If any of the inhabitants of the "city" are aggrieved at the reputation born by the place, they have but themselves to blame, for remaining in such a place.

DUANE! SAYS DOOLEY. HE'S RICH; IT'S A BOY.

"Pether Has Just Come Into the Injoyment of a Thrasure."

New York, Sept. 23.—"I've not seen anything of young Dunne those last few days," said Mr. Hennessy, meditatively. "I wonder has anything happened him?"

"Happened him, is it?" cried Mr. Dooley. "Happened him? Hinnissy, there's times I do think you must be gettin' stothered entirely. Where've you been that you haven't heard the great n'glorious news?

"Don't you know that Finlay Pether Dunne has just come into th' injoymint ov the greatest riches that iver fell to a man? It's a threasure that luks up at ye out ov a little bit ov a cradle an' blinks at yet out ov a pair ov eyes like sapphires washed with dew.

"Yes, that's what happened to Dunne. That's what's been detainin' him for these past few weeks from the circle av his admirin contimporaries. I only got a word ov it yesttherda. He kep' it quiet as long as he could, not wantin' anywan to share his j'yful secret.

DENVER GRAND JURY TO BE CALLED ON MONDAY

Denver, Sept. 23.—Sheriff Armstrong appeared in the criminal court this morning before Judge Malone and and asked for an extension until Monday of the time in which he was to summon a grand jury to take up the frauds in connection with the charter election.

It is understood that the delay was asked because of the lack of time in which to summon persons for the jury. Chief Armstrong says he has been kept so busy in connection with the election of yesterday that he has been unable to take any steps toward summoning persons for service on the jury. He promises, however, to have the men ready to appear in court by Monday and promises also to have a representative set of citizens.

Barclay, secretary of the congress, writes to the Business Men's association that this city is being considered very favorably. The last convention was held in Alexandria, Va. The invitation to hold the next meeting in Pueblo was forwarded by the Business Men's association several weeks ago.

YEAR IN JAIL FOR KILLING A PRIVATE.

dressed the court, saying: "The ultimate decision of this court upon the matters at issue will have an important and far-reaching effect upon the future of this commonwealth. No barrister-at-law can come before this court at this time without feeling an unusual responsibility. Moreover, all lawyers are inexperienced on the subject of military right and power.

"The question at issue strikes at the root of the military power in the state of Colorado. The writ of habeas corpus and the right to issue the same cannot be contended, but when the writ is issued it cannot always be granted and the question now before your honor is, shall this writ stand or fall? The declaration growing out of the magna charta are of vital importance to all law-abiding citizens, but when the governor sends troops into this district is it for a glittering show of armed puppets?"

Police Power of State.

Continuing, Attorney Crump said that the one issue at bar is whether the arrest of these prisoners is lawful or not, saying that the petition of the prisoners alleges their arrest is the result of a conspiracy, and are consequently illegal, and that the petitioners should be discharged.

"We claim, however," said Mr. Crump, "that these arrests were made with the police power of the state acting on the direct order of the chief executive."

The court answered: "Counsel for the prisoners argue that the supplemental returns did not show the legality of the arrest. It is admitted that the military had power to arrest, but it was contended that when the arrest has been made they must divulge information as to the cause for the arrest. You would not insist that the military arrests without a commission of any kind, so the arrest must be based upon some action of the petitioners—that being the point we want to reach."

Mr. Crump declared that if the power of the military was commensurate only with that of the sheriff then the former would be as puppets in the field. Some people imagine, said the attorney, that it is necessary for the voice of the Almighty himself to thunder down from the clouds in order to declare martial law, and perhaps in isolated and terrible instances for the president or congress to issue a formal edict. When the military is sent it means martial law. A decision to that effect by the supreme court of the state of Pennsylvania must stand as good law. When Grover Cleveland sent the federal troops to Chicago in 1894 there was no formal declaration of martial law.

At this point the court interrupted and asked if such conditions prevailed here as did in Pennsylvania.

Modified Martial Law.

Mr. Crump answered that facts made no difference, as the governor had determined, right or wrong, to send the troops and no court had any right to go behind the action of the governor. Should the chief executive wait until blood flowed through the streets of Cripple Creek? You cannot make a rule for a careful and conservative governor and another for a radical one, said Mr. Crump. A qualified case for martial law was declared, not because men had been killed nor because a state of insurrection existed, but because the peace of the community was seriously threatened.

The court asked if the governor could declare martial law irrespective of existing conditions.

Mr. Crump—What do we elect a governor for? If he makes a mistake must we disobey?

The Court—But suppose there are no infractions of the law. Suppose the governor is wrong and there is no question in the case but that he is wrong. Is he justifiable?

Mr. Crump—If he makes a mistake there is one, and only one, remedy, and that is the ballot box next term. Mr. Crump then read military general order No. 35, which he called a qualified declaration of martial law.

"No court in the state can go behind the governor if he did make a mistake," reiterated the attorney. "The opinion of any county commissioners cannot make any difference, either," said he. "We might conceive of cases where the sheriff was so inert or so vicious that he would not arrest a criminal. The sheriff would in that case be particeps criminis and virtually a member of the mob. It would be idle to say in such a case that the military is an adjunct to such an official. We would criticise, and I do criticise, any sheriff or official who would open the doors of a jail and say to a criminal, 'Go free,' when he had been informed that within ten minutes a habeas would be forthcoming for that very prisoner, and that is what was done in this district.

The Governor Supreme.

"If the men in the field are without any discretion, then are they also without power. The state itself has determined what degree of force is necessary. Your honor cannot contend that the governor lied when he said that an insurrection threatened in Teller county. The judiciary must not incroach upon the acts of the governor no more can the supreme court of the United States go behind the acts of the president.

The Court—Do you contend that the military power suspends the operation of the writ of habeas corpus?

Mr. Crump—I do not, but your honor never had any right to issue the writ. I appear at the special request of the governor to ask you that the military powers be upheld." Closing his argument with these words, having talked nearly two hours.

The court announced that court would adjourn until 2 p. m. tomorrow and that the matter would be taken under advisement, and that all parties to the case would hold themselves in constant readiness to be summoned to court in the meantime, at which time the military must produce the petitioners.

The general belief is that Judge Seeds will not sustain the writ of habeas corpus and it is hardly likely if he should take the other side that the prisoners would be turned over by the military power.

Strikers' Statement.

District union No. 1 tonight issued a statement, saying:

"One of the most damnable outrages ever perpetrated upon the people was done today in the action of the militia overawing the courts of justice.

"Thirty-four soldiers, fully armed, walked into the district court and were kept there during the hearing of the habeas corpus cases. In addition to this, the approaches to the court were rendered impassable by a military guard. Sharpshooters were stationed on the roof of the National hotel, commanding the public streets and court room. The law has become a farce in Teller county and a system of military mob rule is in full force.

"The strike situation is to the satisfaction of the committee. The last batch of imported strike-breakers were shipped out of town today. The Abe Lincoln started up this morning with just 13 men, these being a part of the force that has been operating the Golden Cycle and other mines. The endless chain is working and it is hard to keep track of the scabs, as they seldom work two days in succession on the same mine. That this is a fact can easily be ascertained and verified by the list of names on the various scab lists that have been issued. The same names appear as being working on two or more mines."

Patterson's Advice.

It is reliably reported that at a conference of the county commissioners and sheriff with Messrs. T. M. Patterson and C. S. Thomas, the attorneys advised the county officials not to attempt in any way to interfere with the military authority.

The three-room cabin of M. Johnson on Bull hill near the Findley mine, was burned tonight, the loss being about $600. Johnson was a miner working on the Portland under sanction of the union. The origin of the fire is unknown, but is not believed to be due to strike conditions.

GOVERNOR THINKS THAT CONDITIONS ARE IMPROVING

He Reiterates That Militia Is in Cripple Creek Merely to Assist the Civil Authorities.

Denver, Sept. 23.—"There is no martial law in the Cripple Creek district," said Governor Peabody this morning, "nor has there been any. Some newspapers have had paradoxical articles, in one portion of which they have claimed that martial law existed, and in another portion have recited the taking of the men into court. The militia, as I have stated many times, is there to assist the civil authorities in the maintainance of peace and the protection of property.

"When I feel sure that the civil authorities are able to maintain peace, to protect property and prevent unlawful assemblage, and to punish those guilty of offenses against the law, the troops will be withdrawn. I shall expect some assurance from the civil authorities of Teller county of that sort before the troops are withdrawn. I think, from advices which I have received, that conditions are improving in the district and that the situation is clearing."

Asked if he believed that actual martial law could be declared in Colorado, Governor Peabody said: "I am not prepared to express an opinion on that question. There are some eminent authorities on each side of the proposition."

RAIN WOULDN'T WET THIS FAITH CURIST.

Woman Says She Walked Dryshod and Untouched Through Great Storm.

New York, Sept. 23.—As a sort of experience meeting the gathering of Faith Cure adherents in the Church of the First Born, in Jersey City, caused believers to smile with gratification and scoffers with amusement.

One of the most amazing experiences was that told by an elderly woman who had a front seat. She could hardly wait to be heard and convey the glad tidings of a trip that in her estimation excelled that of the tribes led by Moses marching dryshod through the Red Sea, as she had defied the waters both from above and beneath.

The woman modestly refused to give her name, but this is the wondrous story as she told it:

"When I saw the storm coming up on Wednesday I was afraid I would be unable to attend the convocation. The storm broke and the streets became flooded. I got down on my knees and said to the Lord: 'You know that the soles of my shoes are thin, and if I go out I will get my feet wet. I want to go to the meeting.

"The Lord said 'Go.' I left my house during the storm and walked several blocks to the sanctuary. When I arrived the soles of my shoes were as dry as when I left home. They were perfectly dry, and I did not wear rubbers or carry an umbrella, either. Neither was my clothing wet. The Lord takes care of his own."

Today he will be taken over the system in the mountains.

HIGH CLASS DRUGGISTS
AN[illegible] [illegible]ERS.

The better class of druggists, everywhere, are men of scientific attainments and high integrity, who devote their lives to the welfare of their fellow men in supplying the best of remedies and purest medicinal agents of known value, in accordance with physicians' prescriptions and scientific formula. Druggists of the better class manufacture many excellent remedies, but always under original or officinal names and they never sell false brands, or imitation medicines. They are the men to deal with when in need of anything in their line, which usually includes all standard remedies and corresponding adjuncts of a first-class pharmacy and the finest and best of toilet articles and preparations and many useful accessories and remedial appliances. The earning of a fair living, with the satisfaction which arises from a knowledge of the benefits conferred upon their patrons and assistance to the medical profession, is usually their greatest reward for long years of study and many hours of daily toil. They all know that Syrup of Figs is an excellent laxative remedy and that it gives universal satisfaction, and therefore they are selling many millions of bottles annually to the well informed purchasers of the choicest remedies, and they always take pleasure in handing out the genuine article bearing the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package. They know that in cases of colds and headaches attended by biliousness and constipation and of weakness or torpidity of the liver and bowels, arising from irregular habits, indigestion, or over-eating, that there is no other remedy so pleasant, prompt and beneficial in its effects as Syrup of Figs, and they are glad to sell it because it gives universal satisfaction.

Owing to the excellence of Syrup of Figs, the universal satisfaction which it gives and the immense demand for it, imitations have been made, tried and condemned, but there are individual druggists to be found, here and there, who do not maintain the dignity and principles of the profession and whose greed gets the better of their judgment, and who do not hesitate to recommend and try to sell the imitations in order to make a larger profit. Such preparations sometimes have the name "Syrup of Figs"—or "Fig Syrup" and of some piratical concern, or fictitious fig syrup company, printed on the package, but they never have the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of the package. The imitations should be rejected because they are injurious to the system. In order to sell the imitations they find it necessary to resort to misrepresentation or deception, and whenever a dealer passes off on a customer a preparation under the name of "Syrup of Figs" or "Fig Syrup," which does not bear the full name of the California Fig Syrup Co. printed on the front of the package, he is attempting to deceive and mislead the patron who has been so unfortunate as to enter his establishment, whether it be large or small, for if the dealer resorts to misrepresentation and deception in one case he will do so with other medicinal agents, and in the filling of physicians' prescriptions, and should be avoided by every one who values health and happiness. Knowing that the great majority of druggists are reliable, we supply the immense demand for our excellent remedy entirely through the druggists, of whom it may be purchased everywhere, in original packages only, at the regular price of fifty cents per bottle, but as exceptions exist it is necessary to inform the public of the facts, in order that all may decline or return any imitation which may be sold to them. If it does not bear the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package, do not hesitate to return the article and to demand the return of your money, and in future go to one of the better class of druggists who will sell you what you wish and the best of everything in his line at reasonable prices.

PHILADELPHIAN WHO LOOKS LIKE ROOSEVELT HAS AMUSING EXPERIENCES.

Philadelphia, Sept. 23.—President Roosevelt's "double," Roberts Coles Robinson of this city, who figured recently in an automobile crash, narrowly escaping death, has taken unto himself a bride. At Syracuse last Tuesday Mr. Robinson, who is 36 years old, and has been prominent in bachelordom of the Quaker City, wedded Mrs. Harriet Louise Nourse, also of Philadelphia, who was visiting her sister in New York city.

Mr. Robinson and the president are warm personal friends. Besides having won distinction as "the man who looks like Roosevelt," the Philadelphian is like the president in habits, demeanor and tastes. He is an ardent lover of gunning, as is the president, and also has taste for athletic sports. He tips the scales at 210, is well proportioned, muscular from training, quick in movement, and impetuous in temperament. The one slight difference in facial character is that the president's teeth, which are the delight of the caricaturist, are much more prominent than those possessed by his "double." Otherwise the likeness is so perfect as to be startling.

An amusing story in connection with the likeness of the two men is told. The president and Mr. Robinson met at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York one afternoon. They chatted jokingly about their resemblance and finally the president blurted out in his rough and ready fashion:

"So I look like you, do I, Mr. Robinson? Well, I hope I don't. I think you are none too handsome."

To this Mr. Robinson replied:

"Well, I am no more anxious to resemble you, Mr. President, if the truth be told, than you are to look like me."

This sally was followed by a hearty laugh and parting handshake.

Mr. Robinson has numerous amusing experiences in playing the role of "double." Not long ago while on a rail bird shooting trip in the marshes around Washington with a party of friends he entered the New Willard hotel. He was clad in a hunting coat, long boots and slouch hat. His eyeglasses completed his likeness to the occupant of the White house. Some of his friends, in a spirit of fun, had announced quietly before his arrival at the hotel that the president intended stopping there for dinner after returning from a gunning trip.

From the wealthiest guest down to the humblest bellboy every one in the hotel was on the watch. When Mr. Robinson stalked in, with the long stride peculiar to men of his build, he was immediately surrounded by a crowd, bowing and exclaiming, "How do you do, Mr. President." Before Mr. Robinson could recover from his surprise at the greeting one of his friends who was in on the joke, introduced him all around as "Mr. Roosevelt," and then hurried him away before the president's new-found friends could discover the nature of the trick perpetrated upon them.

CURED HER RHEUMATISM BY OMITTING BREAKFASTS.

Miss Rose, a Jersey Woman, Is Making Money and Getting Health at the Same Time.

Morristown, N. J., Sept. 23.—Cured of rheumatism after more than 40 years of suffering, Miss Mileel Rose, now sings the praises of the "no-breakfast" plan, which, she says, is the sole cause of her marvelous recovery.

Miss Rose is 38 years old, and there has not been a day since she attained her majority in which she has not suffered in arms, hands, or legs. For many years she was unable to walk more than a few hundred feet, and could do nothing which required physical exertion because her limbs were so swollen. Her hands were twisted and knotted until she could not hold a knife or fork. Sometimes she was nearly insane from pain and her head bothered so she had to remain in bed for days at a time.

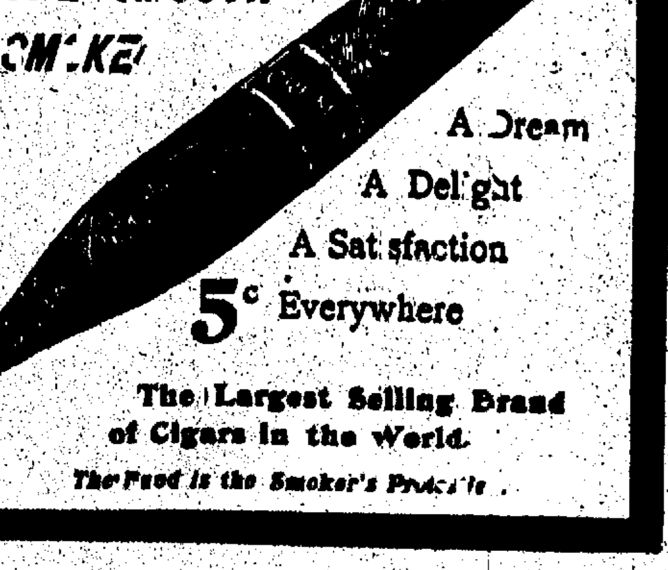

Now Miss Rose is supple as a girl of 20 and walks four or five miles a day without the least pain or fatigue, and the cause of it all is the "no-breakfast" plan to which she was introduced by Dominie Sherman, who has turned to preaching the gospel of fewer meals and less at those meals. Dominie Sherman was formerly a Presbyterian clergyman. He read that going without breakfast would cure almost any disease. He tried it for insomnia and found it potent. Then he lectured on the "no-breakfast" plan. Miss Rose heard one of these lectures, and four months ago she began taking her first meal of the day at noon.

Art Framing.

Since photography has made such great strides and begins to rank in the art world as a true expression of artistic work, the framing of the photograph has ceased to be an item that the framer can set aside as unworthy of his best thought and effort. The beautiful carbon photographs, the clear cut platinum, and even the ordinary finished photograph with which we have been familiar for years, all now demand the attention of the artistic framer, and some of the new creations we have evolved of late are well worthy of note for their originality and beauty of design.

We have the best equipped framing shop, employing only expert workmen, and our prices are no higher than in the ordinary shops when quality is considered.

ished he was not entirely advised of the charges against him. The next continuance was taken for the term, and was granted largely on the same plea, and after consent had been given by the district attorney.

When the calendar was set for this term Coray's trial was set for September 23, and it was generally supposed that the trial would be proceeded with when called.

Here Until Recently.

Coray was in the city all the time following the filing of the first complaint until about a week before his trial was to have been called. He then left the city, presumably going to Pueblo. He always boasted that he would stay here and fight the charges against him, and has declared that he could not be run out of the city.

In issuing the bench warrant yesterday, Judge Cunningham said nothing about Coray's bond, and it still stands. The bonds are in the sum of $500 each and are signed by W. S. Boynton and M. A. Leddy. There are two such bonds, while there are three cases pending against Coray. In the last case the court released him on his own recognizance, holding that the other bonds were sufficient.

In connection with Coray's failure to be present at the calling of the case, it was rumored yesterday that for the past month he has been endeavoring to drown his troubles in drink. His attorneys claim he has been getting very nervous and those who have been watching him say that the fear of the trial has completely unnerved him. At a late hour last night the sheriff's office had been unable to get any word from him and all investigation had proved futile.

History of Case.

Coray was arrested last March on a warrant sworn to by E. R. Clark, chairman of the city council finance committee, charging him with embezzlement and larceny as bailee. The arrest followed an investigation of the records of the building inspector's office which showed that Coray had been collecting money for building permits, and for water used for construction purposes without making any return to the city.

The warrant was sworn out as soon as the first discrepancy was discovered. A complete examination of the records by Accountant E. S. Bach showed that Coray's total shortage was approximately $3,000.

The first warrant was followed by another sworn to by the present building inspector, George M. Young, charging the same offense, and another sworn to by A. C. Widdicomb, charging larceny. The last warrant was sworn out for the purpose of preventing any possible loophole of escape through a technicality.

Coray and his attorneys maintained that inasmuch as he was not the legally constituted officer to receive money for the use of water he could not be held responsible for taking it.

The warrant sworn to by Widdicomb charged Coray with taking money belonging to Widdicomb, under false pretenses.

WOMAN SEEKING DIVORCE TELLS STRANGE STORY IN COURT.

A divorce suit was filed in the county court by Margaret Segerton against John S. Segerton. The complaint alleged that the parties were married May 25, 1895. Mrs. Segerton charges that her husband has lived with her only eleven weeks during the last five years, and during that time has roamed around over Colorado and the adjoining states, doing nothing and providing nothing for his family. She also says that he treated her cruelly and used vile and abusive language to her.

She asks for the care and custody of three children.

A divorce was granted Celeste Brooke against her husband, Richard Brooks. The complaint was filed several months ago charging desertion and non-support.

An answer was filed by the defendant in the case of Mary C. Nichols against the Colorado Springs & Interurban railway, alleging that whatever injuries were sustained by the plaintiff were the result of her own negligence.

An answer was filed by the defendant in the case of John W. Wertz against the town of Manitou, denying generally all the allegations contained in the complaint.

TROUBLE AT CRIPPLE CREEK INTERFERES WITH PLANS FOR BIG ENTERTAINMENT.

Owing to the present difficulties in the Cripple Creek district, the Colorado militia will not attend the military maneuvers at Fort Riley, Kan., as originally planned, and the battalion of artillery that was promised from this state will not be present.

The soldiers from Fort Logan who will be sent to attend the maneuvers expect to leave about October 11 and will comprise eight companies of artillery. Four companies will be sent from Fort Russell and four from Fort Douglas. With the exception of the cavalry, the entire garrison will be taken and arrangements have already been made for transportation. The militia from Colorado could go any time between October 18 and 27, but the likelihood of their being withdrawn from the district before this time is so remote that the plan of having them attend has practically been given up.

The change in plans affects the Colorado Springs members of the militia, who were planning to go on the outing.

STRONG WILL ORGANIZE JUVENILE FOOTBALL LEAGUE.

A meeting of all boys in the city interested in the formation of one or more juvenile football leagues is called for Friday afternoon at Strang's on North Tejon street.

In all probability the Strang City league of last year will be reorganized and other leagues will be formed, according to the number of teams seeking admission to a league. Enough teams have been secured to fill the Strang City league and from the number of juvenile teams that are to be in the field this fall, it is likely that several other leagues of four teams each will be in the field. Mr. Strang will provide suitable trophies to be contested for. The meeting will be held after school Friday afternoon.

Pe-ru-na in Use in Thousands of Homes.

Ex-Governor Isaac Sharp.

Congressmen, Governors and Other High Officials Recommend Pe-ru-na.

Isaac Sharp, ex-governor of Kansas, in a letter from 1227 I street, N. E., Washington, D. C., writes:

"I can earnestly recommend your Peruna as an excellent tonic. Its reputation as a cure for catarrh is firmly established by my friends, who have been benefited by its use, and the public should know of its great curative qualities." Isaac Sharp.

Pe-ru-na Used in a Congressman's Family With Success.

Congressman H. Henry Powers of Vermont, writes from Morrisville, Vt.: "Peruna I have used in my family with success. I can recommend it as an excellent family remedy and very good for coughs, colds and catarrhal affections."—H. Henry Powers.

A Congressman's Wife Uses Pe-ru-na.

"I take pleasure in testifying to the merits of your Peruna. At the solicitation of a friend my wife used it, and it improved her condition generally. It is a remarkable remedy. I can cheerfully recommend Peruna as a good, substantial tonic, and a very good catarrhal remedy."

Pe-ru-na Cures Catarrh.

Half the ills of life are due to catarrh and catarrhal derangements. Peruna is the only internal, systemic catarrh remedy known to the medical profession.

Peruna cures catarrh wherever located. Peruna is not a guess nor an experiment—it is an absolute, scientific certainty. Peruna has no substitutes—no rivals. Insist upon having Peruna.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

COURSING CARNIVAL WILL BE HELD UNDER LEADERSHIP OF KENYON SUNDAY MORNING.

Joe Kenyon yesterday received word that Pascal Poe of Pueblo, Sam Vidler of Cripple Creek, Dr. Moore of Florence and several other coursers from the southern and western part of the state would be in the city Sunday en route to Clyde, Kansas, to attend the big coursing meets that began with the meet at Parsons, Kansas, yesterday and which will end with the Waterloo cup stakes at Oklahoma City the first week in November.

It is planned to work out the various strings of dogs in this city Sunday morning and a small coursing carnival will be held. An invitation has been issued to the Denver owners, the Bartels, the Mosconi brothers, and others to come down and enjoy the sport. Poe will have four futurity entries here, Vidler will have one or two, Moore will have two and all of the dogs will be given a work out.

Mr. Kenyon will join to the bunch his five candidates, May Corbett, Sporting Lady, Faun Bear, The Cubian and Red Prince, and the entire lot will be taken to one of the pastures near the city for short runs.

THE "CALIFORNIA DEMON" ISSUES LOCAL CHALLENGE.

Al Mejia Is Endeavoring to Arrange a Bout With Kid Bell—Is Here With Manager.

Al Mejia, the Filipino boy who from his encounters in the ring has earned the title of the "California Demon," is in Colorado Springs with his manager, Dominick Rogers, and is endeavoring to secure a match with Kid Bell of this city.

"The Demon" does not stop with the local boy, however, and issues a challenge to anyone weighing 110 pounds, or he will fight at catch weights and give a few pounds. In all probability a bout will be arranged, to be fought outside of Colorado Springs, of course. The Filipino boy has been in this country but a short time, but has been in several goes of more or less importance. He has fought a draw with "Monte" Attel, and a draw with Shean, the California boy. He has also fought Jimmie Carroll and knocked out Kid Turner of Berkeley, Calif., in 14 rounds. In Ogden, Utah, not long ago, he fought a draw with Kid Price.

Mr. Beck is postmaster of Scott, Kan.

THE DENVER CHARTER ELECTION.

It is not so much the defeat of the Denver charter as the methods which were employed to accomplish this end that will dishearten and disgust the decent, self-respecting citizens of that city.

If the people of Denver after a free and honest ballot and a fair count had registered their voice against the adoption of the charter it could have been accepted as a candid expression of opinion that the document was not what it ought to be.

But there is little doubt that all sorts of fraud, corruption and chicanery were employed in many of the wards of the city to defeat the measure and that thereby an honest expression of the will of the people of Denver was defeated. It is such disgraceful proceedings as these that cause the capital of this state to be known throughout the country as a place where an honest election is never known.

The practical result of the election is that Denver's present office-holders will continue to hold; that the present nebulous and uncertain sort of a city government will continue; that nothing will be done until the forces of corruption which triumphed on Tuesday are certain that a charter convention will be held which will prove more subservient to their wishes.

MAKE FOOTBALL DAY A HOLIDAY.

COLORADO COLLEGE is becoming more and more a part, and a most important part, of the city, and whatever concerns the college concerns Colorado Springs. The institution brings much to the city in a great variety of ways, and it has done a great deal for the advancement of good sport in this community. The students have put forth their strongest efforts to have the very best amateur games possible on their athletic field, and the people of the city have more and more shown their interest by their support of these athletics.

In bringing the Haskell Indians for next Saturday's game, at so great expense, the students have shown their faith in the generous support of the city. The request to close the stores of the city is in line with the action taken in other college towns, and no merchant who recognizes the students in this manner will be the loser for it. The college and its young people are expending each year in the city tens of thousands of dollars, and this is a good way for the business men to show their appreciation of these benefits.

Among the many good things which Colorado college is bringing to the city—and every year in a greater degree—is clean amateur sport of every kind. Despite occasional objections from the misinformed, there is no factor today more potent in American character than the love of manly and healthful sport. It is the constant heritage of the Anglo-Saxon people, and the surest sign of the continued virility of the race.

It is only just that every good movement in this direction by the college athletic association should have the hearty support of the people of the city. An excellent opportunity for this is offered at the football game to be played with the Haskell Indians next Saturday on Washburn field. The bringing of one of the strongest teams of the west to Colorado Springs is a decided step in advance for the local organization, and it has been done by assuming a very heavy financial responsibility. In doing so the association has shown its faith in the loyal support of the people of the city.

The request made through the mayor for the closing of the business houses from 2 to 5 in the afternoon of the day of the game should bring out this support to the fullest extent. This custom of closing is followed by the other cities of the state in support of their college teams, and certainly the local institution should expect as much loyalty as in any other place. We believe that the results will justify this expectation.

FAILURE OF THE CANAL TREATY.

THE absence of news from Colombia relative to action on the canal treaty leads to the supposition that it failed of ratification. This supposition should not be regarded as conclusive, however, until there is definite announcement. Too great anxiety has been manifested on the part of Colombia, in behalf of reaching an agreement on the canal proposition, to make it easily credible that negotiations have been irrevocably broken off.

It is much easier to believe a current rumor, which has not yet been confirmed, that the Colombian congress in secret session has clothed President Marroquin with full power to negotiate a treaty. If this is true the treaty is entirely safe and there will be very little delay.

Disregarding this rumor, there are two courses now open to the United States. The president can take up negotiations with Nicaragua, as he is authorized to do under the Spooner act, or he can adopt a waiting policy.

Announcement of an intention to proceed with the Nicaraguan route might promptly bring the Colombians to their senses. In case a waiting policy is adopted there is the possibility of a revolution on the isthmus resulting in negotiations direct with the state of Panama. This would mean comparatively short delay, for South American revolutions are of mushroom growth. If this did not occur, then a longer delay would result. The terms of nine of the Colombia senators who are opposed to the treaty expire next July and a campaign with the treaty as an issue would almost without doubt result in an overwhelming majority in its favor.

The time seems long, but it must be remembered that the United States has dallied with the canal question for years and is not in a position to criticise the Colombians for a certain amount of procrastination.

There is one important fact that stands out above all others and is not to be lost sight of. An isthmian canal must and will be constructed and any undue delay will be obviated in some manner. Those who are opposing the project are merely playing with an irresistible force. If they know enough to get out of the way in time, well and good; if not, their efforts may cause minor delay but will have no effect on ultimate results, except to themselves.

While District Attorney Jerome is an able, and in many ways fearless, officer of the law, he is nevertheless a very poor politician and short-sighted man at best. He does not feel kindly towards Mayor Low, and so when the fusion forces nominated Low to be mayor of New York the district attorney made a very bitter attack upon him. The result has been to solidify all the reform forces and District Attorney Jerome enjoys the unpleasant satisfaction of seeing his condemnatory letter operating as a boom for the man he dislikes.

The boom of W. R. Hearst for the Democratic vice presidency is in many respects similar to that of the late Edwin H. Fitler of Pennsylvania for the Republican presidency some years ago. There's nothing to it.

Reports from California say that there are more quail there than the people know what to do with. Rather than see a good thing go to waste Colorado Springs is willing to furnish her share of the toast.

Possibly by this time the grafters in the Colombian congress begin to realize that they have made asses of themselves and a spectacle of their country.

Hon. Joe Chamberlain does not seem to be bothering very seriously about the future. It is the other fellows that are doing the worrying.

THE DAILY NEWSPAPER AND THE FAMILY.

The vast majority of daily papers are conducted with a full sense of responsibility and with a just respect for the rights of all. It is important to remember what is really private and what is not. In our political and social organism we are not Robinson Crusoes. We do not live on an island by ourselves where we are monarch of all we survey. We give up a part of our individual freedom for the sake of the advantages of community. We have to surrender something of our own independence and autonomy in consideration of the general good. What would be private if we stood alone may not be private as parts of a public organization. Whether we vote once or a dozen times, whether we defy the recognized code of public morality, whether we "promote" our own interests by misleading our friends—all this concerns our neighbors as well as ourselves.

There is too much reason to fear that the mere force of authority, in state and church, is decaying. Crafty device evades the law. Easy going virtue silences the creed. But the electric light of publicity which penetrates the dark corners and reveals every wrinkle, is a great security. Abused it may be and intrusive sometimes without warrant, but its protection far outweighs its evils.—(Charles Emory Smith, in Good Housekeeping.

Open Parliament

AN EXPLANATION IN PERKINS-M'PARLIN SUIT.

Colorado Springs, Sept. 22, 1903.

To the Editor of the Gazette:

An article appeared in your paper on last Sunday, in which it was stated substantially that Perkins & McParlin had brought suit to recover 5,000 shares of stock from C. H. Eglee, D. J. Duncan and the Boston-Colorado Coal company. This created a wrong impression so far as we are concerned and inadvertently did an injustice to Mr. D. J. Duncan and the Boston-Colorado Coal company. The two latter were made parties defendant to the suit because of the necessities of the case.

We have no desire to recover from Mr. Duncan, or from the coal company, 5,000 shares of stock. Our action so far as Mr. Duncan is concerned has been dismissed. It is retained against the coal company, for the purpose of enjoining a transfer of the stock on its books and for that purpose only. Our suit is against Mr. C. H. Eglee as the real party defendant. We have alleged that he has in his possession our stock wrongfully and that Mr. Duncan did everything in his power to get it for us.

Respectfully,
Perkins & McParlin.

"Confound the railroads!" exclaimed Subbubs, as he entered the office an hour late and took off his coat.

"Train late again, I suppose?" asked Townley.

Points About People

Frederick Dielman, the artist, has been elected professor of drawing and descriptive geometry at the New York city college.

William Morris had bestowed upon him by his friends one of the oddest of endearing names. It was "Top," or "Topsy," and he is remembered by that name to this day.

Dr. Louis N. Case, formerly of Columbia university, has been selected for the chair of English in the Indiana university, made vacant by the resignation of Prof. H. B. Moore.

Mrs. Frank L. Babbott of Brooklyn, a daughter of the late Charles Pratt, has founded a fellowship in Amherst college for the training of teachers in physical education, at an expense of $500 a year.

William Pecher, who has been the organist of St. Patrick's cathedral, New York city, since its erection in 1857, is very ill in St. Joseph's hospital in that city. He is considered one of the greatest American authorities on church music.

Father Tamas Palmas, the Filipino priest who arrived in this country several days ago on the transport Kilpatrick, is in Washington. He has a large parish at Oton, on the island of Tanay, and is in this country to spend his vacation.

After two years of labor the Rev. Ernest D'Aquila, pastor of an Italian church in Newark, has been granted a patent for a safety gas burner. It is intended to prevent the asphyxiation of persons who blow out the gas through ignorance or by design.

J. T. Trowbridge, the well-known author, celebrated his 76th birthday at his home in Arlington, Mass., recently. Mr. Trowbridge is still strong and active, and in good health. Every morning he takes a long walk about the town, very often before many of the people are out of bed. He is very fond of this exercise, and says that without it his whole day is spoiled.

Chief Justice Sullivan of the Nebraska supreme court, who has a keen sense of humor, filed the statement of his nomination expense in the office of the secretary of state. The chief justice tells the story of what it cost to get the nomination: "Authorized local committees to call on me, if necessary, for $25 to help defray the expenses of the convention. They have not yet called on me, but I am apprehensive."

McCLELLAN

LEADER OF KINGS COUNTY DEMOCRACY ISSUES STATEMENT SECRETARY FULTON RESIGNS.

New York, Sept. 23.—Hugh McLaughlin, Democratic leader of Kings county, authorized a statement, in view of the conflicting reports circulated for some time regarding the position of the Kings county Democracy on the proposed nomination of Congressman McClellan for the mayoralty, that he was willing to say that it is true that the Kings county organization regards the proposed nomination of McClellan as inadvisable because of Mr. McClellan's intimate relation to the leader of Tammany Hall and the fact that he is not known to the public as a strong man personally. Should Leader Murphy insist on McClellan's nomination in the face of the opposition of Kings county, he would, in Mr. McLaughlin's opinion, "incur a wholly unnecessary risk of defeat at the polls."

Were the report true that Mr. Murphy had offered the nomination to Mr. McLaughlin, the veteran leader of the Kings County Democracy said he should conclude that Murphy had fallen back on the old Tammany tactics of Tweed's time, "which brought nothing but ruin to the party."

"Kings county," he said, "insists upon nothing except that the nominee shall be a Democrat likely to attract and not repel independent votes; a man whose recognized integrity, whose force of character would furnish assurance to the people that honesty and not graft would flourish under his administration."

R. Fulton Cutting, president of the Citizens union and a leader in the Fusion movement against Tammany, today replied to the letter given out last night by District Attorney Jerome on the question of Mayor Low's nomination. Mr. Cutting declares that Mr. Fulton's "amazing letters" had done him a great service, since he now knew the source of the persistent reports of the alleged antagonism of the Citizens union district leaders to Mr. Low's nomination. Mr. Cutting added that Mr. Fulton's last letter expresses an opinion which is shared by very few of his fellow citizens—reflecting upon the conduct of the district attorney's department.

Secretary Thomas A. Fulton of the Citizens union, whose correspondence with District Attorney Jerome, the latter made public, resigned his office today at a meeting of the union. Mr. Fulton made an address explaining his actions and position. When the meeting broke up F. C. Huntington, secretary of the executive committee, said that a resolution had been offered by Mr. Cutting, who presided, accepting Mr. Fulton's resignation and thanking him for his past services to the Citizens union. The resolution was adopted with the understanding that Mr. Fulton should later send in a formal letter of resignation, which should be accepted in turn.

FAKE SHINE TRUST COST BOOTBLACK $1,000.

Oily Stranger Takes the Hard-Earned Savings of a Windy City Shiner.

Chicago, Sept. 23.—"I shina do shoo an' blacka do bootios," sang Louis Clamonto blithely. Louis is the bootblack at 274½ Pacific avenue, and does a big business.

"You are very happy," said a stranger whose boots he was shining.

"Yes, I am vera happa," said Clamento. "I now have a 'tousan' bones in de bankio."

"Rich, eh?"

"Vera rich," replied the bootblack. "It taka me four year shina do shoo to getta do mon."

"I will make it $10,000," said the man. "I will form a trust of bootblacks and you can have a third interest. It will be a fine thing for you. But I don't know where to stay in Chicago. I am an Italian and am looking for a good place to stay."

Whereupon Clamento asked the stranger to come to his house. The stranger did and left with Clamento what he said was $50,000 in money. It was wrapped up with the bootblack's $1,000, which he had taken out of the bank to invest.

Then the man went away and so did Clamento.

The stranger returned before Clamento did.

"I thinka do mon we maka in de trust will builda me a fine shop," said Clamento to himself. "I thinka I may buy Masonic temple."

Then came the awakening.

"Where is do mon?" cried Clamento when he went to get it.

"The man too it to the hotel," said his son.

To the hotel he went and waited long.

Then he went to the Harrison street police station.

"Con gamo of the oldest kind," said the sergeant. "He sto e your money.

Clamento went back to his shop and took up his brush. He did not sing as he worked.

WILL TRY PUBLICITY CURE ON DEBTORS.

London Dressmakers Who Have Difficulty in Making Collections Hit Upon Novel Scheme.

London, Sept. 23.—Owing to an anomaly in the English law, married women having separate estates cannot be readily made amenable for debt and many have taken advantage of this state of things to run up heavy bills with the customers. The aggrieved firms have now combined and discovered a method of procedure under which they can get judgment against these women.

Hereafter the feminine debtors' names are to be published in the Official Gazette, which will render them ineligible to attend court. An intimation of this has been sufficient to get a large portion of the accounts paid, most of the delinquents being very fashionable women. The total amount due to five prominent customers is more than $200,000.

SPORTING WRITER MAKES FUN OF LOUBET'S SHOOTING.

Paris, Sept. 23.—The French president's shooting parties begin next month and the king of Italy will make one of the party. A sporting writer, referring to the frequency of accidents since the season began and evidently not impressed with M. Loubet's skill as a sportsman, hopes he will not shoot the king accidently.

Game has been scarce this year. Hares and partridges are particularly costly in the markets. But at Tarbes in the Houte Pyrenees during a recent storm great flocks of quail entered the town, attracted by the lights, and flew into shops and houses, the inhabitants securing them in large numbers.

NO DUTY TO PAY ON THE SHAMROCKS.

Mr. Davis Says That Offers Have Been Received, but no Sale Made Yet.

New York, Sept. 23.—There have been all sorts of rumors regarding the disposition of Sir Thomas Lipton's three 90-foot yachts. The latest report is that $7,000 has been offered for Shamrock I and $7,700 for Shamrock III. Sir Thomas may be anxious to dispose of his yachts, but these figures would seem to be ridiculously low, for that sum would hardly pay for the lead ballast used in the yachts something like 100 tons—at the prevailing quotations, to say nothing of the nickel steel of which Shamrock III is mainly constructed, the steel spars and the sails. The item of sails alone runs far beyond $7,000 for the Reliance.

There has been a popular impression that the man who bought either one of the Shamrocks would be obliged to pay a heavy duty, equal to half the price paid for the yacht. At the custom house yesterday Francis Hamilton, who has looked into the question, said it had been decided that an American purchasing a foreign yacht after she has been condemned by her former owner, or if she is purchased while in these waters to be used here as a yacht, need not pay any duty on her.

There is some talk of laying up Shamrock III at Greenport, Long Island, at Brigham's yard, where many New York yachts are laid up every winter. H. Iler Davies, the American representative of Sir Thomas Lipton in this city, who has full charge of the negotiations for the sale of the Shamrocks, said yesterday that there was no truth in the report that either of the yachts had been sold, although a number of offers had been received from yachtsmen and others, both in this city and in Boston. All three yachts are still in the Erie basin.

DOESN'T UNDERSTAND AMERICAN WOMEN.

French Writer Pretends to Be Astounded and Shocked by Their Ways.

Paris, Sept. 23.—"How can married women be distinguished from single ones in America?"

This is the pointed question asked by Hughes Le Roux, a well-known French writer, who has been spending some months in the United States. The American girl has astounded and shocked him. She wears such magnificent jewels, he declares, as are only offered to a French woman on her marriage. She gowns herself, too, in the heavy velvets and silks only known to women of wealth in France.

But in the third and last proof of the complete absence of the "Jeune fille" element in the American girl, which M. Le Roux cites, is her indifference to marriage. Very often she believes in having a good time, he says, and refuses to consider the subject seriously at all.

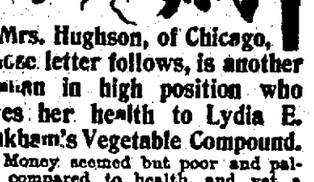

"This," observes M. Le Roux, "is not to be wondered at in a country where the mothers and fathers neither advise nor hurry marriage, and where it is not preached from the pulpit on Sunday as a duty."

Mrs. Hughson, of Chicago, whose letter follows, is another woman in high position who owes her health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"Money seemed but poor and paltry compared to health, and yet a few dollars invested in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought me good health. I suffered for several years with general weakness and bearing-down pains, caused by womb trouble. My appetite was frightful, and I would lie awake for hours, and could not sleep, until I seemed more weary in the morning than when I retired. After reading one of its advertisements I decided to try the merits of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am so glad I did. No one can describe the good it did me. I took three bottles faithfully, and besides building up my general health, it drove all disease and poison out of my body, and made me feel as spry and active as a young girl. Mrs. Pinkham's medicines are certainly all they are claimed to be.—Mrs. M. E. Hughson, 347 E. If the slightest trouble appears which you do not understand, write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for her advice, and a few timely words from her will show you the right thing to do. This advice costs nothing, but it may mean life or happiness or both.

The case of Jack Cimino against Sam Cimino was called for trial in the county court yesterday morning.

As the title of the case shows, the parties in interest are Italians and brothers. Both men are employed at the Pike View mines, where they have lived for several years. They are members of a colony of Italians and through them every Italian at the coal mines has taken sides and for the past three or four months a feud has existed which has threatened to break out into open war.

The complaint filed by Jack Cimino, charges his brother with defaming his character and asks for damages in the sum of $2,000. In support of the allegation, Jack alleges that several months ago his brother Sam accused him of having robbed him of $500. Jack resented the charge and a fist fight took place between the sons of Italy. Jack was worsted in the encounter and he swore dire vengeance against his brother. He consulted an attorney, and related how he had been wrongly accused, and how he had been whipped in the bargain. The result was a suit for damages.

Sam filed an answer in which he formally accused his brother of having robbed him, and the fight was formally transferred from the coal mines to the county court room. After the issues had been made up both sides began subpoenaing witnesses and when the case was called this morning, every Italian at the coal mines men, women and children, were on hand. They had come, expecting a long trial, and they had their dinner buckets with them. They were dressed in their best and presented a picturesque sight with their gauze and tinsel, and bright colored sashes and ribbons.

The case was tried by Judge Palm of Castle Rock. The testimony of the plaintiff was completed before adjournment and the defendant will be given a hearing today. It is probable that several days will be consumed in the trial.

Attorney Charles H. Bryce was brought before Justice Ruby yesterday morning in shackles, and after waiving a preliminary hearing on the charges against him, was again committed to the county jail under bond of $1,700.

No one has yet come forward to give bail and until bail is furnished Bryce will be confined to the strong box, where he was placed after his arrest. Mrs. Bryce was at work all day yesterday endeavoring to secure bondsmen for her husband, but at a late hour had not succeeded. It seems probable that no one will risk such a security on account of the manner in which Bryce attempted to get out of the city after Undersheriff O. P. Grimes had released him on his own recognizance, but this has not dampened the ardor of the man's wife, and she says she will exhaust every resource at her command before giving up.

Faith of Wife.

Mrs. Bryce was the only visitor allowed at the jail yesterday. She was there early asking for permission to see her husband. "He is not guilty," she said. "I do not believe these awful charges they have brought against my husband."

Out of deference the jailer turned away when the grief-stricken wife was shown to her husband's cell and did not overhear their interview. Mrs. Bryce remained at the jail for nearly an hour before she finally came out into the main corridor. Her eyes showed plainly that she had been crying and she was wiping the last tear from her cheeks.

"He has always been so good to me. I don't see how he could have done such things and I don't believe it," she sobbed to herself, as the iron door was swung open and then swung closed behind her again shutting her husband within the walls of steel.

Prospects Were Good.

Bryce came to this city several years ago with the best prospects before him. He was a graduate of an eastern law college, and of one of the better universities. He was equipped with all the faculties needed to carve out a career in the practice of law. At first he opened an office for himself, and began the struggles that are the lot of every young practitioner. His knowledge of the law, however, soon gained prestige for him and after maintaining his own office for several months, he was offered and accepted a position with one of the leading law firms in the city. He remained there for some time and was regarded by his employers as one of their most valuable men.

He suddenly severed his connection with this firm, however, apparently without cause. But he opened another office and it was generally supposed that he considered his chances as a beginner better than the salaried position he had held.

He had made many friends and when he began the practice of law the second time, they did all in their power to help him. He was made attorney for several mining corporations, and began to advance rapidly. Notwithstanding his youth, he was regarded as one of the most brilliant lawyers in the city, and his clientele grew from the beginning.

His Downward Turn.

All at once it was rumored that Bryce was not entirely straight in his affairs. He was charged with taking money from clients and doing nothing in return. But he explained these occurrences by saying that his clients had gone to other attorneys and that the money he had taken was due him as his fee. This served to explain for a time, but the rumors became more persistent. There were too many cases of the same sort, and a number of his friends turned against him.

It also became noised about that Bryce was living very extravagantly for one of his means, that he frequently indulged in champagne suppers and spent money with a free hand. These rumors tended to estrange still others of his former friends, and he found himself being deserted. Then it was said that he was discharged from the law office in which he was employed for several months for the reason that he was in the habit of cashing checks, drawn on banks where he had no funds. It is said that people called at the office and informed his employers and showed them the worthless checks.

Reckless of Results.

As friends after friend left him, Bryce seemed to become even more reckless, and since his arrest numerous persons have charged him with having borrowed money from them which he has never repaid. It was said that he would borrow $25 or $50 and then go to the Antlers hotel and spend it all on a champagne supper. During the last few weeks his many creditors began to haunt him, and he was approached at nearly every street corner. He did not check himself on a course that must have appeared fatal to him, he had started to slide down and it seemed that he made no effort to stop.

Soon the rumors began to be displaced by actual charges, first Bryce was accused of embezzling $100 on a charge filed by Sam Viller of Cripple Creek. This charge was dismissed, however, but instead of being a warning, it seemed but to stimulate. There are now pending in the district court three informations, one charging larceny as bailee one embezzlement and the other forgery.

MRS. PAGE WILL ATTEND MEETING OF STATE FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS.

Word was received yesterday that still another state president will be in attendance at the state convention of Women's clubs in this city next week. Mrs. Page of the Nebraska Federation of Women's clubs is added to the notable guests.

The members of the committees are hard at work unraveling many difficult propositions. Those to be entertained are well provided for but Mrs. J. K. Miller, chairman of that committee, would like very much to extend the list of hostesses.

From numerous inquiries the fact is made known that many do not understand that not only club women but any persons desiring to attend the convention are welcome. The guests and delegates will be given the choicest seats, of course, but Perkins hall, the meeting place, is sufficiently commodious to hold all who may wish to attend.

LOOPED THE LOOP AND NEARLY DIED.

Dean Allen Seriously Injured at Pueblo While Trying to Imitate Diavolo.

While attempting to do the 'loop the loop' stunt and imitate Diavolo, in Pueblo Monday evening, Dean Allen, a former resident of Colorado Springs and well known here, narrowly escaped being killed by a fall from the top of the circle upon which the feat is performed.

Allen made the attempt as the result of a banter by some of his friends, who dared him to try to make the $200 offered by the management of the show to anyone accomplishing the feat. He lay unconscious after the fall for some time and was picked up for dead. Beyond a few scratches, he is none the worse for his experience.

Allen is a former High school boy. He was traveling salesman for the Baxter-Kearns Mercantile company for some time, but went to San Francisco, returning to the state about one month ago to accept a position with the Colorado Supply company of Pueblo.

MORE MEN ARRIVE FROM CRIPPLE CREEK.

Six more of the Duluth men shipped into the Cripple Creek district last week, and who refused to go to work there under existing conditions, came down to Colorado City yesterday morning.

A party of seven left the district yesterday and passed through Colorado Springs last night en route to Denver where the union men will try to secure work for them. A pathetic story is told of a young Swede who has only been in America for a few weeks and who cannot speak a word of English. He hasn't a cent of money and did not have anything to eat all day until he struck Colorado City last night. The union men there took him in and are now caring for him.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT HIMSELF IN FOOT

William Garner accidentally shot himself in the foot yesterday while out hunting. Garner works for J. A. Gouts who lives at 308 East Second street, this city, on the latter's stock ranch at Eagle, Colorado. While hunting yesterday the trigger of his gun became caught and the contents of the shell struck Garner in the foot and shattered the member so badly that amputation was necessary to save his limb.

INTERESTING DISCUSSION AT MEETING OF SOCIAL SCIENCE DEPARTMENT.

The second meeting of the Social Science department of the Woman's club was held yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Alva Roy Scott, chairman, presiding.

A special meeting of the board of education was held yesterday morning in the offices of O. E. Hemenway, and, in order that the teachers of the schools here may have an opportunity to attend the state federation on September 30, it was unanimously decided to allow them a half holiday on that date.

[illegible] MAN SUFFERS A "PUT-OUT" THROUGH THE DOOR IN KANGAROO BOUT—WIRE PERFORMER HURT.

The large crowd at the carnival last night witnessed two accidents, either one of which might have resulted more seriously than it did. The first occurred when the man and kangaroo were doing their boxing match. The kangaroo became enraged during the second round and with a punch that would have done credit to a Fitzsimmons knocked his trainer through the half-open door of the cage where the bout was being held. Outside of being badly shaken up the man was unhurt but the sparring exhibition was brought to a sudden end.

Schemezo the Jap who performs on the slack wire while executing one of difficult feats slipped and fell to the ground a distance of about 25 feet. Several persons ran to his aid and with their assistance he was able to reach his difficult feats slipped and fell to the that he was not seriously injured.

REMARKABLE AGE OF CATALPA TIES

John Brown, the Arboriculturist, Is Making Interesting Researches in the West.

John P. Brown editor of Arboriculture, arrived in the city yesterday on one of his regular tours of this section of the country.

Mr. Brown will probably proceed to the Trinchera estate in New Mexico to examine forest conditions there with a view to keeping up the timber on the estate.

Mr. Brown has found in the last few weeks a number of illustrations to prove the truth of his contention that the catalpa is one of the most valuable timber trees that can be raised. He found in southern Illinois some railway ties that had been in service since 1873, a period of 31 years. The average life of an oak tie is seven years.

In Hutchinson, Kan. he visited the big catalpa tract of L. W. Yaggy. Here 500 acres were planted in catalpa 11 years ago. The cost of the land and the planting was $40 an acre. Mr. Yaggy has already sold $30,000 worth of posts and ties and has only used up trees sufficient to thin the tract properly.

ATTEMPTS SUICIDE IN A STREET CAR.

Passenger Had Gashed Himself Fifteen Times Before Being Disarmed.

Newark, N. J., Sept. 23.—Thomas Hand, aged 35 years, of 414 Third street, East Newark, who is believed to be insane, made a desperate attempt at suicide by stabbing himself while on board a turnpike trolley car this afternoon. Hand inflicted 15 wounds in his abdomen and was prevented from accomplishing his end only after a fierce struggle.

Hand boarded the trolley car at the Hackensack river bridge. He carried his shoes in his hand and his feet were bleeding from cuts which had evidently been received by walking in rough places. He had hardly taken his seat when he drew a penknife from his pocket.

"I'm going to die game," he exclaimed as he plunged it into his breast.

The women passengers screamed, while the conductor and several male passengers rushed toward the man, who kept them at bay by darting his knife at them in the intervals when he was not gashing himself with it. When he was subdued he had cut himself 15 times.

Carried to the Harrison police station, he was sent thence to the hospital. Hand lives with his mother at the East Newark address.

Science Settles It.

Dandruff Is Caused by a Germ That Saps the Hair's Vitality.

It is now a settled fact that dandruff is caused by a germ. Falling hair and baldness are the result of dandruff. Dr. E. J. Beardsley of Champaign, Ill., got hold of the new hair preparation, Newbro's Herpicide—the only one that kills the dandruff germ. He says: "I used Herpicide for my dandruff and falling hair, and I am well satisfied with the result." Dr. J. T. Fugate of Urbana, Ill., says: "I have used Herpicide for dandruff with excellent results. I shall prescribe it in my practice." Herpicide kills the dandruff germ. Physicians as well as the general public say so. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Hefley-Arcularius Drug Co. and Robinson Drug Co., special agents.

WEAKNESS ... NEW YORK STOCKS / WYOMING STOCK ... CATTLE ...

BUT FEW PRINCIPAL WEAKNESS WAS CONCENTRATED IN A FEW STOCKS.

The principal weakness in Wall street was concentrated in a few stocks. The weakness of Amalgamated Copper was attributed to the pool liquidation thought to be prompted by the weakness of the metal in London and of foreign copper.

The cooler weather in the corn belt and fears of frost tonight hurt the grangers. The market closed heavy at about the lowest.

The weakness of U. S. Steel second 5s, which touched a new low record of 72½, was a weight upon the general bond market. Total sales, par value, $2,195,000.

U. S. 5s advanced ¼, the new 4s ⅜, the 3s one per cent and the old 4s 1⅛. The 2s declined ⅛ per cent on the last call.

COLORADO LIVE STOCK AFFECTED BY NEW PROCLAMATION BY GOVERNOR.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Sept. 23.—Following the acquittal on technical grounds of McGinley and Hester at Douglas, Wyo., on charges of bringing diseased cattle into the state, Governor Chatterton's attention was called to the faulty form of the previous proclamation by former Governor Richards, regarding quarantine of live stock entering from neighboring states.

Today a new proclamation was issued by the governor forbidding the entry by rail or otherwise of all cattle, horses, sheep or other live stock without a clear bill of health from the government inspectors, or inspection upon entering the state by the state veterinarian or his deputies. Notice must be given of intention to enter the state. Transit through the state is subject to inspection and quarantine if the stock are in the state more than three days, if by rail, or six if by trail. Southern cattle must be unloaded at Cheyenne, Denver or Aurora, Neb., and inspected by owner at a charge of one and one-half cents per head. Stock from southern California is to be quarantined until shown to be free from splenic fever.

The proclamation goes into effect at once, affecting Montana, South Dakota, Nebraska, Colorado, Utah and Idaho, and other states as indicated.

HEAVY SELLING CAUSED A DECLINE IN MARKET

Chicago, Sept. 23.—Wheat opened firm, influenced largely by the bull sentiment carried over from last night, December selling early up to 78⅝, but the fine weather, the bearish situation in foreign markets and weakness which finally ruled in the northwest and at St. Louis, induced heavy selling by commission houses. The close showed a portion of the loss regained, but with December still 1⅛ under yesterday's finish figure at 77¼@77⅜.

Corn, after opening at a trifle higher level, was dragged down by the weakness in wheat, but later renewed its upward tendency, and the close was ⅛@¼ better for the December option at 47⅛@47¼.

Oats showed considerable strength the greater part of the day in sympathy with corn.

The provision market was slow and irregular. October options being offered freely by commission houses, and the result was a decline of 10 cents in closing pork prices, 15 cents in lard and 5 cents in ribs.

The leading futures ranged as follows:

AMUSEMENTS

"Florodora"

"Florodora," interpreted by Fischer and Ryley's number one company, is underlined for the Opera house next Monday evening. The big cast of 75 will present many names that have already become familiar to local playgoers through previous presentations of the musical comedy and also some who have hitherto confined themselves to the organization which toured the eastern cities. As Lady Holyrood there will be Isabore Rush, conceded to be the superior of anybody who has endeavored to portray the blase society widow. Robert E. Graham, the original in the role of Cyrus Gilfain, will likewise be here, as will Philip H. Ryley, Greta Risley, Donald Brine, Harriett Merritt, Joseph Phillips, Lillian Spencer and Thomas A. Kiernan. The foregoing comprise the list of principal members and in their support Messrs. Fischer and Ryley have provided a chorus of 70, a sextette that is said to compare with the original and a special orchestra. The sale of seats will begin this morning.

Rock Island System.

Chicago's Centennial,

During the last week of September the most notable jubilee that has ever occurred in this country will be held in the city of Chicago.

It will commemorate the founding of the second largest city on the continent.

The scale on which it is planned and the importance and splendor of the event will attract thousands of visitors.

The program is extraordinarily varied and includes a reproduction of the Chicago fire of 1871. There will also be automobile, industrial and military parades as well as water sports and an old settlers' reunion. A vast number of relics of Chicago's early days have been gathered together and will be on view.

Exceedingly low rates will apply from all points on the Rock Island system September 26, 27 and 28, and the return limit —October 5—is long enough to make it worth while to visit Chicago for business purposes, even if one had no desire to see the remarkable series of celebrations which the citizens of Chicago have arranged.
